Workshop -“Crafting Connections”

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2012 6:30 P.M. TO 9:30 P.M.

Ron is a licensed psychologist who has over 30 years of experience in the field of autism. During his professional training at UCLA, he served as Clinic Supervisor, Research Psychologist, Lecturer, and Interim Director of the Young Autism Project. He is co-author of A Work In Progress: Behaviour Management Strategies and a Curriculum for Intensive Behavioural Treatment of Autism, It Has to Be Said: Sense and Nonsense in the Behavioural Treatment of Autism, It's Time for School and the new book Crafting Connections.

Dr. Leaf has consulted nationally and internationally to families, school districts, day programs, and residential treatment facilities. He has served as the Director of Straight Talk's Developmental Disabilities Services division for 15 years. The program provided residential and day treatment for adults with developmental disabilities. Dr. Leaf is also the Executive Director of Behaviour Therapy and Learning Center, a mental health agency providing treatment, consultation and related services to parents, program staff and school personnel. Dr. Leaf is one of the co-directors of Autism Partnership.

This session is practical in that it addresses real world issues such as teasing and bullying, conversational development, and social comprehension. Most individuals with ASD have substantial social challenges. Many receive good and through intervention in various areas of the academic curriculum, but few receive excellent instruction in social skills.
